Introduction:

The Graduate School is pleased to announce a new competition to recognize the artistic talents of graduate students at Florida State University. Cash awards will be coupled with an exhibition of the selected works in the Honors, Scholars and Fellows House on the FSU Campus for one year (April 2016-April 2017). A parallel program opportunity is being offered to undergraduate students. Submissions will be judged separately.

Description:

We are looking for two high quality works of art that clearly show excellence in visual arts. While all mediums will be considered, there are limited exhibition spaces in the Honors, Scholars and Fellows House as noted below. The graduate awards will be presented at the Celebration of Graduate Student Excellence held each spring in the month of April. The two graduate student winners will each be awarded $750. The award winners must agree to display their “winning” art work in the Honors, Scholars and Fellows House and the installation must remain up for one year (April 2016-April 2017).

Eligibility:

The competition is open to all currently enrolled, degree seeking graduate and professional students in good academic standing. Applicants should consider the criteria for submitted artwork noted below under Guidelines.

Selection:

The identification of the award recipients will be a two-step process. First, a qualified panel of judges will identify a group of finalists based on technical/artistic merit. Second, two graduate student winners will be chosen from this group by a committee of faculty and staff from the Honors, Scholars and Fellows House, and faculty from the Department of Art and the Art on Campus Director.

- All winning artwork must be “ready to hang”
- Students are responsible for framing their “winning” works
  - Please consider the following information for submittals:
    - Frames can be whatever the artists thinks is best for the work but they need to be as sturdy as possible. No “snap on” frames are to be used. Matting can enhance or detract from a work of art and should be considered for the overall size. Plexiglas or glass should be used to protect all artwork EXCEPT works in oil or acrylic on canvas or board. Artwork on canvas/hardboard should be on a wide profile gallery wrapped with a finished painted edge or have a framed edge and be “ready for hanging”. Artwork does not have to be framed to be submitted for consideration, but all selected works on paper will have to be framed by the student for exhibition purposes and receipt of award.

If you have any general questions, please contact The Graduate School at 850-644-3501.

If you have questions regarding artwork eligibility or installation, please contact the Art on Campus Director, Professor Lilian Garcia-Roig at lgarciaroig@fsu.edu

NOTE: If artworks are left past a year, the Art on Campus Director will have the option of continuing to exhibit the work or take it down and store it for another 6 months. Unless previous arrangements were made with the Director of Art on Campus, all arts works that are not picked up by the student after that 6-month “grace-period” will become the property of Art on Campus and can be exhibited in various FSU locations. All works will be properly labeled and include the students name, graduating date, degree and award designation.
